
best place to find parts for your 1995 macintosh

Even if Apple just opened a new store in Soho, they still don't have the ability to fix older models. New Yorkers have flocked to TEK-SERVE for Mac needs since 1990, and their full-service tech center boasts same-day service for most upgrades, plus an ancient Coke machine that spits out glass bottles for 10 cents in the waiting area. If you know how to install your own equipment, they offer a host of supplies for your vintage Mac SE model or your brand new G4. 119 West 23rd Street, 929-3645 DM

best bookshop for pulp and detective fiction

The joint was small, sure, and on a dry strip of Broadway, up in the low Nineties. But the